Ice & Fire USA

Stáv Training Weekend
May 7 - 8 2011
With Graham Butcher
Chief Instructor of Ice and Fire UK
Asheville, NC

What is it?

Stáv is believed to be a 1500yr old Northern European martial art and mind/body/spirit which survived obliteration in a small isolated family in Norway. Stáv literally means: 'Knowledge of the rune staves.' The martial art of Stáv is gentle and suitable for most persons. This weekend of Stáv training will provide an excellent introduction to Stáv for beginners and an opportunity for continuation training for those with some experience.

What will it cover?

The sixteen runic stances, basic rune lore, staff training, and movement. Also covered may be martial practice, staff weapon training, hand to hand training, healing skills, rune counseling, Fylgae and bindrunes.

The Instructor:

Graham Butcher has been a master student of Ivar Hafskjold since 1992. He has been teaching Stáv since 1996 and created Ice and Fire in 2003 to promote and teach all aspects of Stáv.
